DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The amendments made to Claims 1, 4, 7-9, and 22 have been considered.
2. In reference to Claim 9, the 35 U.S.C. 112 second paragraph rejection has been withdrawn.
3. Claims 2-3, 6, 17, and 23-24 have been cancelled.
4. Claims 1, 4-5, 7-16, 18-22, and 25-27 are now in condition for allowance.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1, 4-5, 7-16, 18-22, and 25-27 are allowed.
6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The independent Claims 1 and 22 embody the same teachings, with their difference being that Claim 1 denotes a "device", while Claim 22 denotes a "copying device". Claim 1 will therefore be described in detail, with all descriptions applying equally to Claim 22.
7. The allowability of Claim 1 will be described in detail. Originally, Claim 1 was rejected due to its unoriginal qualities of being solely a device that could make copies of interfaced storage devices upon a user's request. However, Claim 1 was amended to include a few novel notions, which now make the claim patentable. There now exists a limitation that necessitates that the interfaces are isolated electronically from each other. Also, the control circuit must now compare the size of the source device to the destination device, and then communicate the result to the user. Furthermore, the control circuit must open hidden areas on the source device. Finally, the source drive needs to be restored to its original condition after the data on the source and destination drives is compared. All of the amended and added items cause Claim 1 to be very specific and limited in its scope, and the entirety of Claim 1 cannot be overcome by prior art. Since the teachings of Claim 1 are presented in a non-obvious manner, the requirements for allowability are fulfilled.

8. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
